Founded in 1915 as the Cartographic Group, the first division of National Geographic, National Geographic Maps has been responsible for illustrating the world around us through the art and science of mapmaking. Today, National Geographic Maps continues this mission by creating the world's best wall maps, recreation maps, atlases, and globes which inspire people to care about and explore their world.

Very sturdy and clear maps. We were backpacking and a couple trails we had planned to do were closed because of weather. I'm SO glad we had this map because it has trails marked, where campgrounds are, the distances, and more. IT IS NOT A TRAIL GUIDE but has a lot of this information. We were able to pick a new itinerary without any trail books just using this map. I'll definitely be getting this brand when we do other trips.

Nice map. Durable and covers a lot of trails. Very helpful for both driving and hiking in the parks.

Gave it a 5 because it lives up to its description - Trails Illustrated - and the material looks durable. Should be great for hikers as it depicts the terrain and provides the distances of the trails. However, I was disappointed that it did not include an insert (blow up) map of Banff.

Good for general planning, but the scale is way too large for any practical mountaineering purposes beyond trail hiking.

The National Geographic National Park maps (both USA & CA) are a must for a National Park visitor. Waterproof, frequently updated, tough, and detailed. I use them for roads, trails, backpacking, and canoe touring. LOVE EM!!!

This was very helpful on my road trip I took!

Good
